BACKGROUND:

With 20+ years of video production service with the U.S. government, I currently serve as the Senior Producer / Editor for Loudoun County Public Schools.

Since 2000, I've worked to develop high-concept videos, impactful messaging and multimedia content in support of multiple Intelligence Community customers' missions.

I interact and coordinate story elements with production teammates, including: animators, graphic designers, audio engineers, web developers, and creative directors and producers.

Of note, I garnished praises from the Associate Deputy Director of CIA for Digital Innovation on multiple media products developed to convey the mission of its newly formed directorate.
